25X1

ODE - A 4036, 5 August 1957, Outer Mongolia and Sinkiang Province, China.

1. URUMCHI, (Ti-Hua), (43° 48'N, 87° 37'E) Sinkiang Province.
Print Nos. V415 to V425.
 - a. Ti-Hua (2) Airfield. Blacktop runway 6000' X 140', oriented ESE/WWN. Runway appears serviceable, but no aircraft are visible.
 - b. There is evidence of considerable activity in Urumchi. Several military training, billeting, and depot areas were noted. Also, there are a number of active industrial complexes in and near the city.
 - c. A thorough search of the area in and around the city failed to reveal a railroad either in being or under construction.
 - d. No site was found that could be associated with any phase of nuclear energy activity.

In summary, ODE - A 4036 is of excellent quality, but includes very extensive areas of uninhabited mountain and desert wastes. It did, however, provide excellent cover of URUMCHI, the principal city in the Sinkiang Province.
